About Me

Alright, get ready for a tale straight out of Tinseltown, folks! So, I started my career as a wee lad from New Mexico and made my way to the big city of Los Angeles. There, I graced your TV screens as a child actor on some pretty iconic shows like Little House on the Prairie, Disney's the Gummi Bears, and even Sesame Street! And let's not forget about the endless stream of commercials for Jell-O, Coke, and McDonald's. Hey, a kid's gotta eat, right?

But eventually, I traded in my on-screen stardom for a career behind the mic. And boy, have I been busy! In the past 36 years, my voice has appeared in thousands of commercials, trailers, cartoons, and video games. I'm like the Swiss Army knife of voice-overs, baby! I can be heard on the Howard Stern Show, NBC. My voice is used by some of the world's most beloved brands to tell their story. Clients include: Crayola, Mercedes-Benz, Sesame Street, Dollywood, Sandals Resorts, Visa and so many other!

But what really sets me apart from the pack is my unique journey from child actor to voice-over pro. It's a Hollywood story that's filled with nostalgia and a behind-the-scenes look at a bygone era.

And if that's not enough to pique your interest, how about the fact that I have a treasure trove of character voices and stories that would make even the biggest Hollywood buff jealous? Oh, and did I mention that I have a connection to the legends Charlie Chaplin and Orson Welles? Yeah, I'm kind of a big deal (Not!).

But wait, there's more! When I'm not wowing audiences with my voice, I'm dabbling in the art of mentalism. That's right, I can read minds! Well, kind of. I'm a part-time mentalist and I've been known to show off a few mind-bending tricks during interviews. Trust me, it's a unique experience for everyone involved.

So, there you have it, folks. A Hollywood journey that's as dynamic and colorful as they come. And who knows, maybe one day they'll make a movie about me. Hey, a guy can dream, can't he?
